24 Jan 73

From Sneaky Thought Department:

Presumably L. Patrick Gray sent in his resignation when everyone else did. Why is he still left in suspense? Especially since he's said he wants the job, he WANTS it? Possible Watergate insurance?

On the other hand, Kleindienst seems to be pouting about this. ("Senate Offered Bugging Data," by David Broder, Wx Post 19 Jan 73, which you sent us.) Smokescreen?